WELCOME!

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I welcome each of you on behalf of the officers and membership of the F.D.I.A.I. to our 19th Annual Educational Conference in beautiful West Palm Beach, Florida.

The program you are about to experience is a culmination of over a year's efforts by James Hamilton and his co-hosts and I invite you to participate in each segment of this most informative and educational program.

The Florida State Division, one of the largest, if not the largest state division of the I.A.I., has many accomplishments during the past year of which to be proud. Our membership is increasing; new and innovative techniques are being discovered, published, and disseminated to criminalistics officers throughout the country; our newsletter is constantly being improved and expanded; a great semi-annual conference was presented in Sanford, FL; a past officer certificate was created and will be presented to each officer for his or her efforts during the past year; a beautiful perpetual I.D. Officer of the Year plaque was authorized and will be displayed for the first time this year; the fingerprint certification of the I.A.I. has been adopted and our state is a forerunner in this program with numerous recipients of this national and world-wide certification; but most of all, we have accomplished our goal of improving the working relationships between the various agencies we represent.

I want to take this opportunity to thank all of you that have assisted me during this past year and you can be assured that 1978 is a year I shall not forget. It has been a great honor to serve you and as I pass the association gavel to the 1979 President, I will only conclude my year as President — not my enthusiasm for this association and my efforts to improve our state division.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF APPLIED SCIENCE

For over half a century the American Institute of Applied Science has been providing Professional Training for those who want to excel in Fingerprint Identification and Civil and Criminal Investigation.

This is the most rewarding investment any professional officer can make. Many Department sponsored enrollments each year attest to the recognition given A.I.A.S. training in the field of Identification. Prepared by qualified experts in their own area of expertise, the course is second to none in its method of teaching. This is home study training in spare time without interference with regular duties.

Our training in the science of Fingerprints has been accepted by the Expert Certification Board of the International Association for Identification. The course is also a part of the required training curriculum of the U.S. Army Crime Laboratory at Fort Gordon, Georgia, and is required for I.D. positions in several State and local I. D. Bureaus in the U.S.

A.I.A.S. Graduates hold key positions in many I.D. Bureaus in the U.S., Canada and over 40 countries throughout the world.
