Background:

The Florida Division of the International Association for Identification is the largest state division of the parent body, the IAI. There are nearly 1,000 members in the association and although the majority of members reside within the state of Florida, we have many members from throughout the United States. Its members consist of law enforcement professionals dedicated to the forensic sciences including crime scene, latent fingerprints, firearms, DNA, and other disciplines within this field.

The FDIAl annual conference has been in existence for 62 years. It has evolved into the largest IAI division conference in the United States. The conference will run from Sunday through Thursday with the exhibitor's display open from Monday through Wednesday.

The conference includes (2) 40-hour workshops involving latent print identification and Crime Scene Investigation. In addition there are several (2) and (4) hour workshops in every subject from photography to chemical processing. General sessions cover the forensic sciences from crime scene safety to latent print enhancement and AFIS systems.

The FDIAl Annual Conference this year is one the most cost effective means for law enforcement agencies to train their forensic personnel. There is no similar training available anywhere in the U.S. at a comparable cost. Command personnel routinely attend this conference to see the latest forensic equipment available to purchase and often is their only opportunity to see it all in one place.

Exhibitor Information:

Join the dozens of exhibitors that have been supporting our Annual conference for many years including Idemia, Sirchie, TriTech, Evident Crime Scene, DataWorks Plus. SPEX and many more. These are the largest companies in the field of forensics displaying the latest in forensic technology.
